

HANS-PETER WEISS

ICF Standing Canoe Slalom Committee Advisor

Advisor Canoe Slalom Committee

ABOUT ME

Professional Experience & Sports involvement

Hans-Peter Weiss is a seasoned professional in the field of Canoe Slalom, with a career spanning over three decades as an athlete, coach, judge, and event organizer. His journey began as a competitive canoe slalom racer from 1980 to 2008, during which he gained invaluable insights into the sport. Since 1982, he has served as a licensed coach, guiding athletes at both club and regional levels. His extensive experience includes roles as a judge for national competitions and as an event organizer, where he demonstrated exceptional leadership and organizational skills.

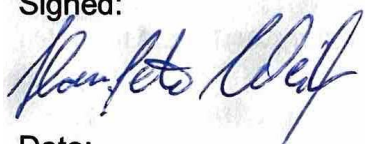

Hans-Peter has been actively involved in international canoe slalom events since 1989, participating in 84 ICF Major events and contributing as a TVS coordinator and video judge coordinator since 2007. His role as an advisor to the Canoe Slalom Committee has allowed him to consult on and develop key initiatives, including the implementation of technical video services to enhance competition analysis. His contributions to five Olympic Games, alongside his involvement in various continental events, underscore his commitment to advancing the sport at the highest levels.

Hans-Peter's deep knowledge of Canoe Slalom, combined with his extensive experience in coaching, judging, and event management, makes him a valuable candidate for the role of advisor to the ICF Standing Canoe Slalom Committee.

3. Endeavour to make sure that access between the Board and any auditors is open and unimpeded. A Director should be satisfied that the scope of any audit is adequate and that management and any internal auditors have co-operated fully.
