THE NEXT EVOLUTION OF PADDLE

The World Paddle Games is more than a sports event. It is a global lifestyle movement. At its heart, the Games unite world-class competition with mass participation, where amateurs have the rare opportunity to paddle alongside the best athletes on the planet. The experience extends far beyond the races, with a vibrant city-wide festival that invites the community to share first hand the lifestyle that inspires the world's best paddlers. A unique immersive experience spanning over two weekends, the Games embody the spirit of active inclusivity and celebration and will connect millions of paddle fans across the world.

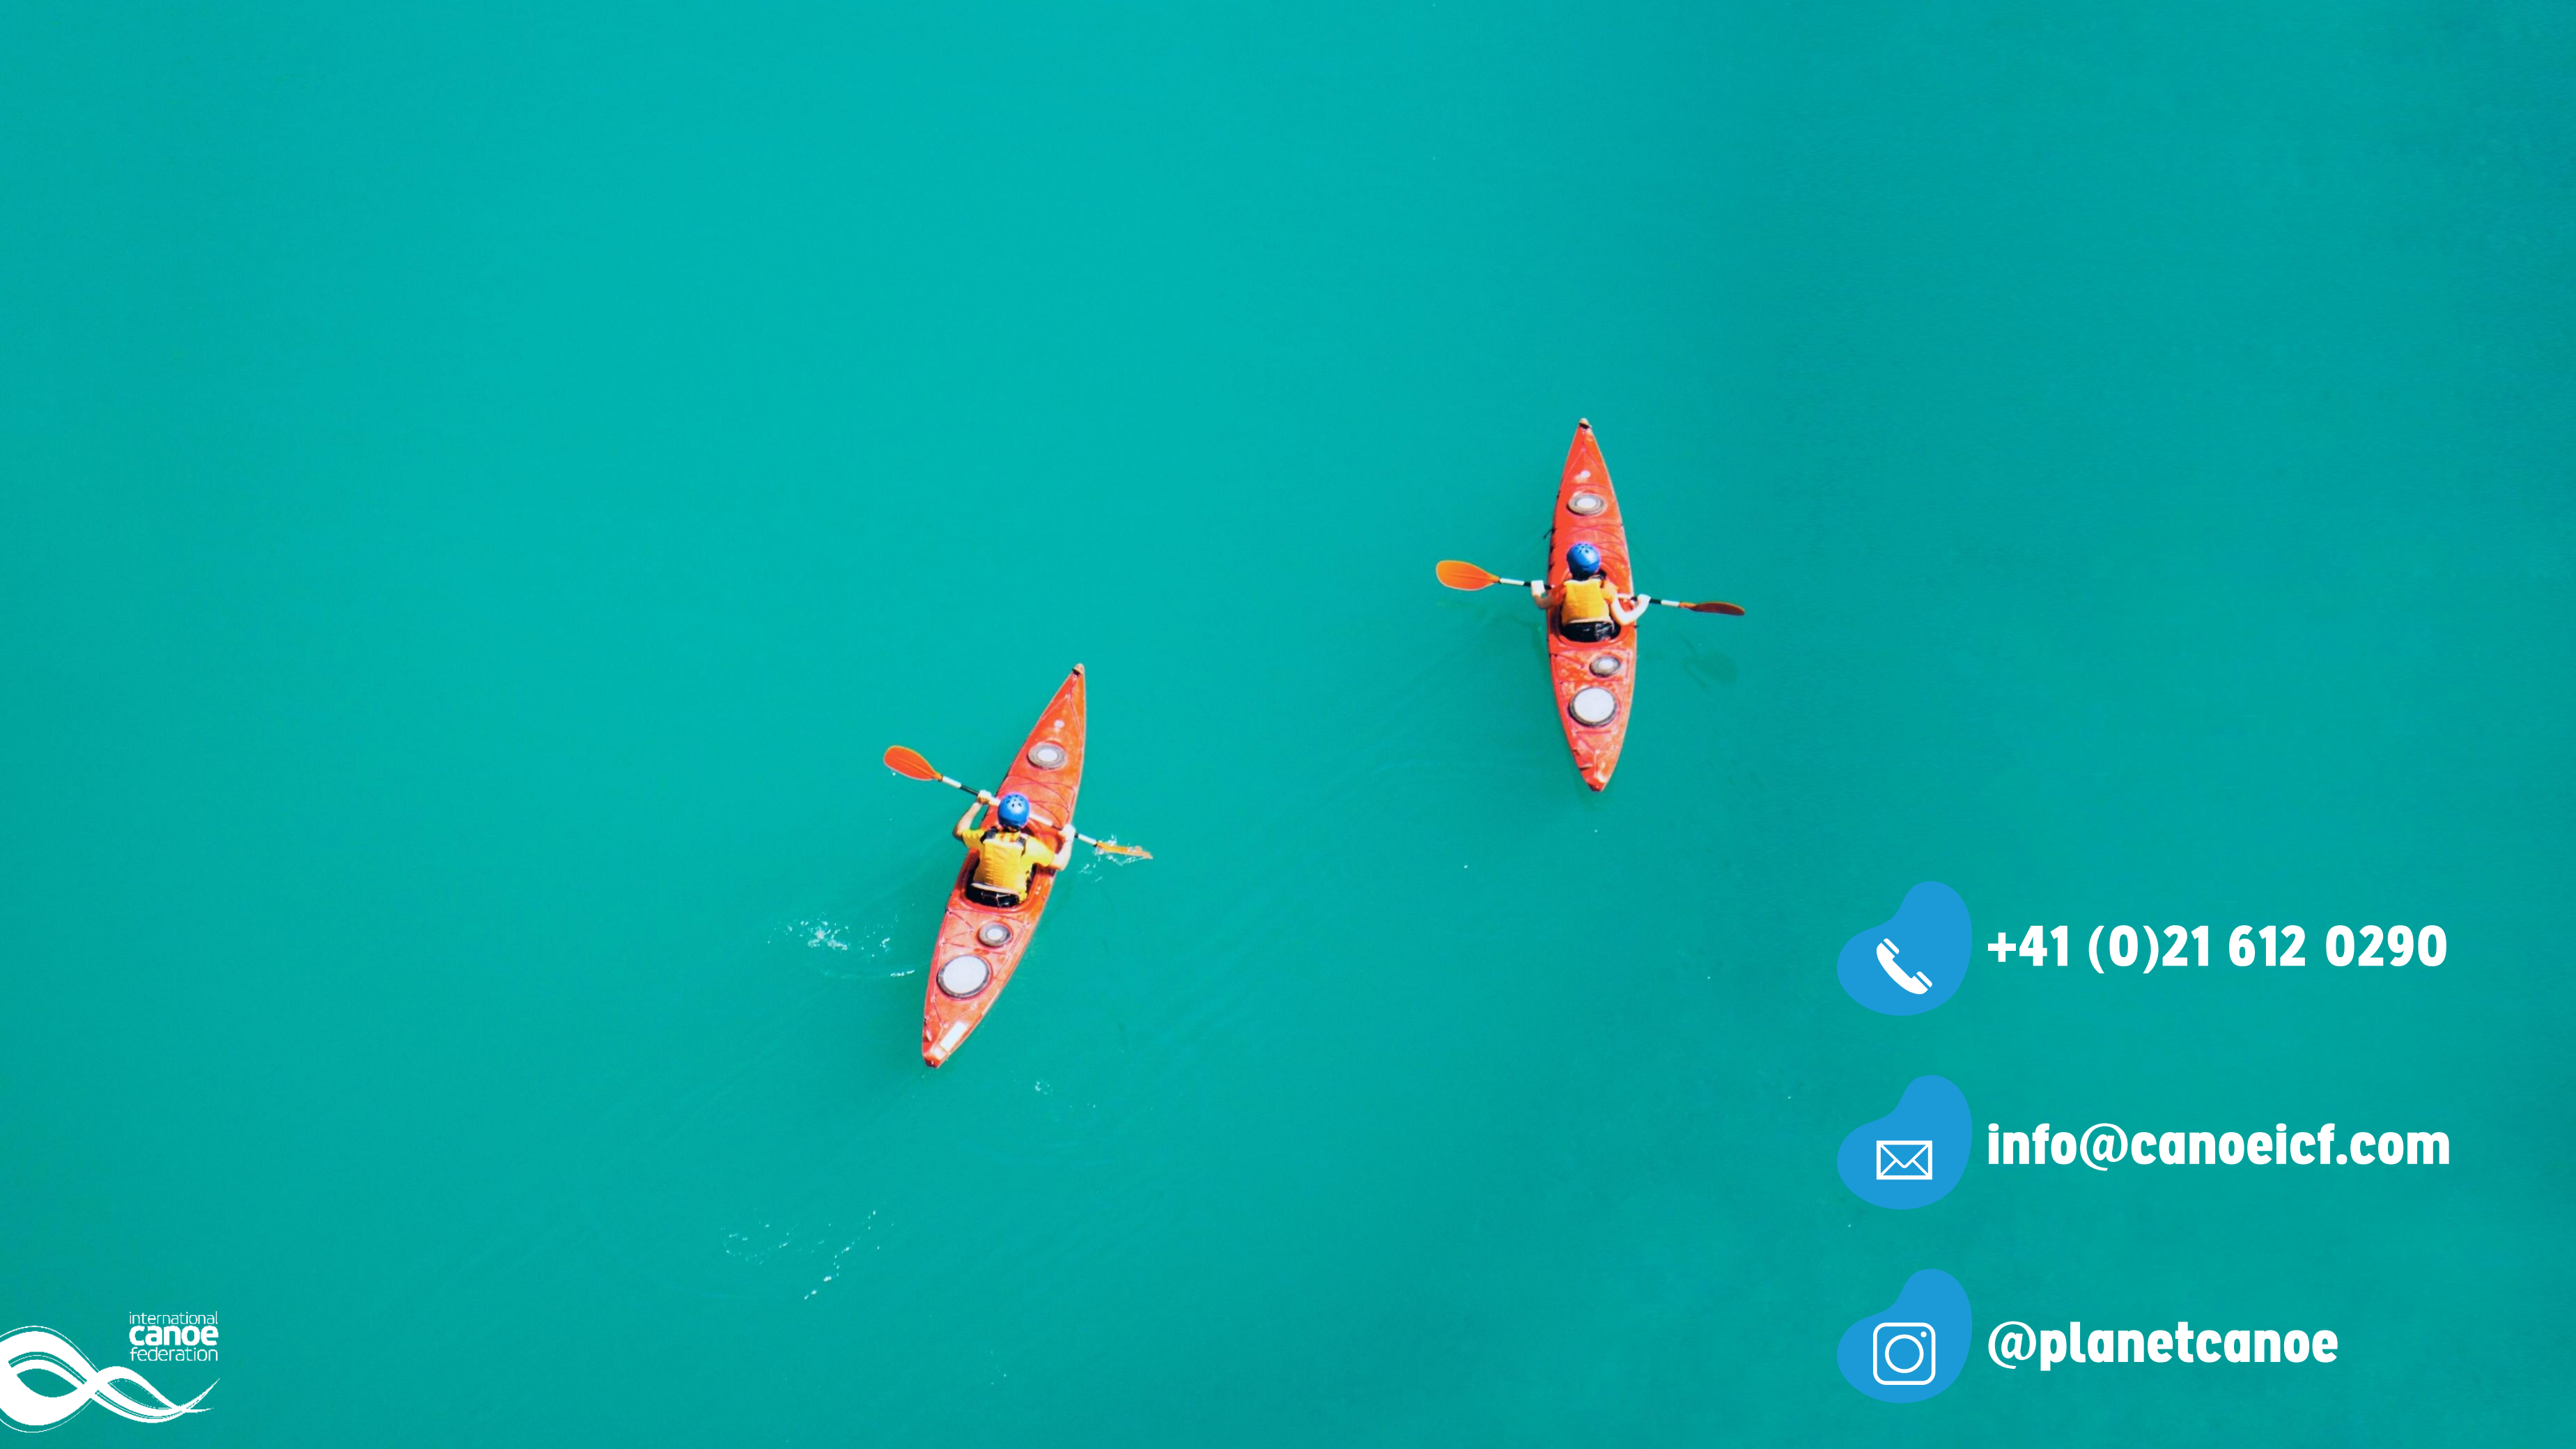

OPERATIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

The event is built around three arenas: Flatwater, Whitewater, and Ocean, all positioned within an hour's radius to maximize accessibility and atmosphere, so as spectators and participants can be concentrated for impact and vibrancy. A future-facing digital-first broadcast approach ensures global reach, using fan engagement apps and athlete storytelling to connect audiences. Sustainability is embedded into the model, with initiatives linked towards water stewardship, plastic-free venues and water safety, all which will leave a meaningful legacy to the host city and the sport itself.

HOST CITY VALUE

Hosting the World Paddle Games delivers unparalleled international exposure, positioning the host city as the world's first "International Paddle Destination". The impact reaches far beyond the competition itself, leaving behind a powerful legacy of world-class paddle infrastructure, enhanced community participation, and tourism pathways that continue to generate value for years to come. The World Paddle Games establish the city as a global showcase for sport and lifestyle, creating opportunities to attract future events, inspire local engagement, and embed Paddle Life as part of the city's identity.
